

Eastern Illinois University
School of Business Position Announcement
Assistant Professor in Management

Eastern Illinois University invites applications for a 9-month tenure-track faculty position in Management at the Assistant Professor level, beginning in the fall of 2020. Preference is for a candidate qualified in human resource management along with a secondary area, such as organizational behavior, managerial communications, international business, or strategic management. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in traditional and online formats, as well as conduct scholarly research and engage in service activities, including providing leadership for student organizations.

A Management PhD or DBA is required, with very strong preference given to candidates having an earned doctorate from an AACSB accredited school; also required are a demonstrated ability for effective teaching, an established record of intellectual contributions or demonstrated potential for such contributions, and commitment to diversity and promoting inclusive excellence. (ABDs close to degree completion, and those with both an MBA and PhD degree substantially equivalent to Management may be considered). Evidence of strong instructional effectiveness is essential, as are strong communication and interpersonal skills. Experience teaching online, business experience, and professional certifications are desirable.

Applicants must electronically submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and names and contact information (including phone number and e-mail address) for three references to <http://apply.interfolio.com/64090>. Review of application materials on the Interfolio website begins September 20, 2019 and will continue until all interviews are scheduled. Phone/electronic (if appropriate) and on-campus interviews are expected to begin in October. Finalists will be asked to provide transcripts. For questions about the search, please contact Dr. David Boggs, Screening Committee Chair at diboggs@eiu.edu.

Eastern Illinois University is a public university that places priority on teaching excellence for a student body in a residential setting. Eastern is consistently named one of the top midwestern public universities in its class by U.S. News & World Report. Approximately 7,500 students are enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs. The University is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The School of Business, with approximately 600 declared undergraduate business majors and 60 MBA degree candidates, is accredited by AACSB International; it offers an MBA, ten minors, and six undergraduate majors, including the Bachelors of Science in Business Management degree major with concentrations in General Management, Human Resource Management and International Management. Charleston is located in East Central Illinois and combines the benefits of a community of 20,000 with access (within 2-3 hours) to Chicago, St. Louis, and Indianapolis. More information about Eastern and the School of Business is available at: <http://www.eiu.edu/business/>

Eastern Illinois University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer - minority/female/disability/veteran - committed to achieving a diverse community.